Most of it, however, already has been supplied to the senate committee, headed by Couzens, of Michigan, which was named to investigate the corporation. That committee has indeated it was about to approve the activities of the corporation.

Due principally to the insistence of Speaker Garner, loans since July have been made public. He and supporters of the position he took encountered strong opposition from President Hoover and from members of the corporation itself. Today's house action was taken at the urging of Representative Howard, democrat, Nebraska, who had the backing of Garner and other democratic leaders. Howard's resolution directed the corporation to give full data on loans made in the first five months of its operations, including "the names and addresses of the borrowers and prospective borrowers."

Soon passed along the word that the proposal would be pressed only if other budget-balancing methods fail and Speaker Garner said that he himself had a tax plan which he though the world be "not quite so painful and more effective."

Senator Wagner, democrat, New York, announced in the senate today that he would introduce a bill Monday to liberalize the law under which corporation administers relief. Among the changes he proposes are: Removal of the limitation of $300,-000,000 for direct relief loans to states, authorization of long-term loans to states, removal of the self-liquidatto states, removal of the self-liquidating requirement on construction loans and lowering of interest rates.

The New York Senator said the changes were necessary to clear a path "through the undergrowth of technicalities and delays which have well-nigh smothered" the relief act.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(P)—
(Saturday)—Led by President Hoover and Chief Justice Hughes, a distinguished group of the nation's leaders left at 12:30 a. m. for Northampton to pay tribute today at the funeral of Calvin Coolidge.

The 13-car special train had no stops scheduled until it reaches the Massachusetts home of the former chief executive, shortly before the time set for the funeral services.

It was the second time during his time set for the funeral services.

It was the second time during his administration that President Hoover has been called upon to pay the nation's homage at the bier of a fallen leader, William Howard Taft having died in the capital three years ago.

Accompanied by Mrs. Hoover, the president boarded the train more than an hour before the time for departure. Shortly thereafter, the chief justice arrived and went to his compartment.

By midnight the roster of those making up the party was virtually complete.

Vice President Curtis was one of the party, heading a delegation of the party, heading a delegation of the party, heading a delegation of the same commentation and transfer recommentations of President Hoover, involving 58 agencies.

the party, heading a delegation of 25 from the senate. It was from Curtis' place that Coolidge was elevated to the presidency and the senators who sat under him felt his loss with special keenness.

The head of the nation's judiciary,
Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes and Justice Stone, turned toward Northampton. Both were in the Cool-Northampton. Both were in the Coor-idge cabinet, one as secretary of state, the other as attorney-general With them were a nu.ber of the Hoover cabinet, and other officials. Still another delegation was assigned from the house.

The senate session today was the most striking of the day's tributes to the late former president. It had adjourned yesterday literally aghast and journed yesterday literally aghast and unthinking of anything except the sudden loss. So today there remained the duty of assigning senators to the fuseral party. A prayer and an eulogy of Mr. Coolidge were heard from the Rev. ZeBarney Philips, chaplain of the senate. The president's formal notification of the Jeath was then read and a resolution of sorrow, proposed by Senator Walsh, democrat from the Coolidge state, Massachusetts, was adopted. No word of the ordinary business of the chamber was uttered.

The house had complied with the formalities yesterday and with a press-ing burden of work, chose to proceed with debate, but Speaker Garner an-nounced there would be no session to-morrow, in honor of Mr. Coolidge's memory.

The diplomatic corps sent its dean,
Paul Claudel, of France, to express to Mr. Hoover its condolences. Then one after another the ambassadors and inisters visited Secretary Stimson at the state department to present the formal expressions of their governcan risk falling in love with one of these, for he will play square.

But you can't trust one of the conceited lads. He is the villain in the play. He loves himself so well that he can't love anybody else very much, and if you go with him and thereby risk falling in love, prepare to nurse a broken heart. How can you avert such disaster? It is very simple. In common with all your sex, you doubtless know that the easiest way to win a man's interest is to brag on him. All men like feminine

NEW NIGHT FLIGHT IMPROVES SERVICE TO FLORIDA POINTS

The inauguration of an additional come effective today, has been announced by Eastern Air Transport officials.

Detailed schedules of this new service were not available Friday, but it was understood that the southbound plane from Jacksonville would take off at about 6:15 p. m., arriving Miami at 9:50 p. m., eastern time. This marks the first scheduled night passenger plane service to be inaugurated in the south. Northbound, the plane will depart from Miami at 5:20 a. m., arriving Jacksonville 8:55 a. m., where connections will be made with Eastern Air's northbound plane for New York.

This compared with $1,708,000 reported early in the week by the democratic national committee, and $6,256,-111 the republicons spent in the 1928 election.

The G. O. P. report, filed with South Trimble, clerk of the house of representatives; showed the republican committee ended the year with a deficit of $195,100.

This, however, did not include broadcasting charges of $114,971 not yet approved, nor radio bills of $3,308 for talks by President Hoover and Secretary Stimson and paid for by Stimson.

Only recently it has been seen between New York.

Why recently it has been seen seen leave Atlanta on the regular Atlanta - Jacksonville - Miami plane at 9 a. m. (central time), arrive Jacksonville at noon, have a full afternoon for work, and arrive in Miami before bedtime. It also will enable passengers between New York.

Ernie Schaaf's Savage Attack Stops Young Poreda in Sixth Round

It looks very much as if Atlanta and Albany will combine to keep the landscapes well filled all spring and summer with swinging woods and irons.

Atlanta is to offer the southern amateur in June to be followed by the state a couple of weeks later at Thomasville. The various women's tournaments will also occupy more than a few of the spring and summer days.

of the spring and summer days.

Radium Springs is offering quite the most attractive program in years, including a $1,500 open tournament in March which will catch the better-known professionals en route from Florida. gram in years, including a $1,500 open tournament in March

Floyd Alford, in preparing his program, is also adding a southern amateur for women in addition to the southern open, the first annual open having been a success last summer. The Cherry Tree tournament for men, an annual event, will be held in February and the annual August invitation will follow.

The open, of course, will provide the most interest. Letters are out and replies have been had from a sufficient number of professionals to move the open from the tentative stage into

Golf in Georgia enjoyed one of its, best tournament years in 1932 and the good year 1933, barely out of its figurative swaddling clothes, with which cartoonists always adorn the little brat, seems to be starting off in

The best of the southern amateurs, men and women, and the best of the professionals in an open tournament, makes the golf schedule for the year most attractive. Reports of the excellent condition of the greens at the various clubs in Atlanta have brought out the golfers a month earlier than usual.

Albany had hoped that Bobby Jones would be available for an exhibition at the open tournament but Bobby departs the latter part of this month for California and another series of those most excelletn golf pictures, the first of which captivated the nation.

At any rate the caddies need not fear unemployment this season. It looks like a boom year for them.

GOLF MOVES FORWARD.

It is significant, if there be any among you who wonder what our national game has come to be, that golf continues to

The touring professionals, it is true, ran into lean funds at the various tournaments. So much so, indeed, that a threatened revolt appeared on the horizon in which some of the tourists wanted another organization to make for better golf galleries.

It is quite probable that the day of the golf exhibition, such as the touring professionals put on, is out of favor for a while. There used to be swarms of golf addicts willing to go galloping or gallumphing about the course in the wake of the exhibition. But those fellows are now galloping around with a job they don't

This department of golf saw the only falling off in interest. The remainder of the game, which is the game, of course, saw no falling off at all and a great many gains were reported.

Tournament golf saw large entries, often record-breaking lists, and golf professionals were busy. The golf professional who stays with his shop and the teaching of the game, as does Atlanta's splendid body of professionals, is really the backbone of the game. And this explains why Atlanta has kept pace.

Baseball has lost following, caste and class. College football stood up well. But not as well as golf. Golf continues to be the national game, the game which most baseball players play before going to the park for their little job in the afternoon.

In fact, baseball players are the greatest boosters of the game. I can still hear the old-timers grumbling at Babe Ruth and Judge Kennesaw M. Landis because they spend their winter seasons and spring training seasons talking about golf instead of baseball.

ALBANY'S FIELD TRIALS.

Albany sportsmen are planning for the greatest field trial in Georgia when they put on the southern amateur trials there on

The trial last season, run on the magnificent plantation of Judge R. W. Bingham, publisher of the Louisville Courier Journal, saw more birds worked than in any other trial in the history of the south.

The dogs worked more than 60 bevies in one day and the gallery rode up enough to bring the total to at least 75 bevies. It was an unprecedented number of birds and came in one of the Golfers Qualify worst hunting years. Judge Bingham's plantation has done a wonderful work in destroying snakes, opossums and other enemies of the birds. Clearings and maintenance of proper cover for the birds and complete protection from hunters has made the plantation a real haven for them and the results, while surprising, are but natural. Judge Bingham has merely shown what can be done by intelligent supervision.

Albany is a splendid city for sports. The Radium Springs program will mean much to the southern golf world and the second annual field trials will establish the city as the field trial city of this section. Entries from several southern states have already been received.

It is probable that the fine old Georgia state trials will be abandoned this season until the field trial grounds at Waynesboro are in better condition. Fire swept them last year. This means the Albany trials will be the only ones offered in Georgia and a magnificent entry list and gallery are expected.

A ROOM FOR TWO.

Last season's trials produced one of the best dog stories When the trials come to Albany the city belongs to the visitors. Dr. George Myshrall, of Atlanta, arrived with two of his dogs, Sis Callie, a pointer, and Joe, a He came into the New Albany lobby with his dogs. The kennels were crowded. Joe and Sis Callie placed their front feet on the desk and seemed to be asking for a room.

"That's an idea," said Dr. Myshrall, "since the kennels are crowded, give them a room."

And so they were registered and duly escorted to the elevator and their room.

The next morning when the door was opened it was found that Sis Callie and Joe, lacking something to read themselves to sleep with, had playfully chewed the stuffing out of an upholstered chair.

The first two dogs to be registered at a hotel and assigned to a room ran up a nice bill. This year they stay at the kennels,

The horse racing bill is to be sponsored by Representative Fred Jones, of Lumpkin county, and provides for the use of pari-mutuel machines to be taxed by the state.

Horse racing has been the means of keeping down the tax deficits in many states, a heavy tax being placed on the operation of the tracks and machines. A horse racing bill passed the house in the last legislature and was approved by a senate committee. It was then "lost" on the table and never came to a vote in the senate.

The Sunday baseball bill, similar to the one which recently passed in Birmingham, would put the matter to a vote of the people. Atlanta is the only Southern Association city without Sunday baseball.

Gob's Protege Shows Marked Improvement in Battering His Foe.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN,
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—Once more the blonde tiger of old, burly Ernie Schaaf. Boston heavyweight, battered young Stanley Poreda into a technical knockout defeat in six savage rounds fonight.
Poreda was floored four times before Rreferee Arthur Donovan stopped the duel.

fore Rreferee Arthur Donovan stopped the duel.

Apparently completely recovered from a slump that all but carried him out of the top-flight heavyweight picture, Schaaf battered the young Jerseyman to the floor twice in the second round, again the fourth, and once more before Referee Donovan called a halt after 28 seconds of the sixth. Schaaf weighed 2091-4 pounds; Poreda, 203.

MAD HOUSE.

Avenging a 10-pound decision, Poreda, a clever 23-year-old youngster, scored over him this summer, Schaaf, after a mad-house first round, neverleft the issue in doubt. He hurled himself upon the big, black-thatched Jerseyman at the opening bell, punched him into a corner, and then rau into a succession of straight rights and right uppercuts that left him dizzy at the bell.

But Schaaf, now an outstanding contender for Jack Sharkey's title, despite the champion's part ownership of his fistic rights, came back vicious-contender for Jack Sharkey's title, despite the champion's part ownership of his fistic rights, came back viciously in the second. He caught Foreda flush on the chin. Poreda went down, so badly hurt that he staggered uncertainly to his feet at four instead of taking the advantage of nine seconds allowed him.

Schaaf charged the wallowing Jerseyman and Poreda took a fearful lacing, collapsing finally under a barrage of left hooks just as the bell came to his rescue.

GAMELY RETURNS.

His seconds barely were able to carry Poreda to his corner, but he came out gamely for the third, though glassy-eyed. Somehow he managed to ward off Schaaf's frantic rushes and even found the strength, near the end of the round, to trade rights to the head and stop the sailor's charges for a moment.

the head and stop the sailor's charges for a moment.

Poreda stood in his corner instead of resting between the third and fourth, but it did his strength no good. Schaaf caught him with two solid rights to the head and Stanley went down for nine. When he came up, weak and wobbly, Schaaf laced his body with both hands.

But again Poreda came back in the fifth. Wearily he threw his right hand, the punch that had beaten Primo Carnera. Johnny Risko, and Schaaf, among others, but he was bowed from the body beating and his teetering legs carried him around in a sort of fantastic eccentric dance.

Once more the Jersey City gamester pulled himself to his feet, but he had nothing left. Schaaf sent him recling with another left hook and right cross to the chin. Referee Donovan quickly stepped in to avert more

Bill Tilden Plans To Retire At the End of Current Year

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(AP)—Big Bill Tilden, claimed by many the greatest tennis player of all time, has decided definitely to retire from competition at the end of 1933.

Following a coast-to-coast tour, starting early in February, Tilden will sail for Europe the latter part of May, returning in November. His present plans call for several outdoor sport centers on Long Island and Westchester county, with the possibility that he will also build and manage several indoor tennis courts. Big Bill has been connected with big-time tennis since 1911 as an amateur and professional. He was national amateur champion from 1920 to 1925 and then won the title again in 1929. He turned professional in December, 1930, and until this year held

'Prince" Ordered Barred From United States

From United States

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—(P)—Har ry F. Gerguson, whose escapades as "Prince Michael Romanoff" frequently have brought him into clashes with immigration authorities, today was ordered excluded from the United States.

A special board of inquiry issued the order at the conclusion of a hearing at Ellis island.

With the exclusion order, Immigration Commissioner Edward F.

AT LAWRENCEVILLE

Prominent Attorney Succumbs to Heart Attack. Funeral This Afternoon.

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga., Jan. 6. Funeral services of Judge N. L. Hutchins, 66, prominent Lawrence ville attorney, will be held from the residence Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Dr. William Huck, of Atlanta, officiating. Burial will be in Shadow ing at his home. He died of a heart attack.

Judge Hutchins was a member of one of Gwinnett county's pioneer families, the son of the late Judge N. L. Hutchins for years judge of the superior court of the western circuit.

After attending the Lawrenceville schools Judge Hutchins was a student of Bingham Military school at Bingham, N. C., after which he graduated from the University of Georgia with an A. B. degree. He later studied law under his father, and, after being admitted to the bar, was a member of the law firm of the late Samuel C. Dunlap, of Atlanta. After some years as a member of this firm he removed to Lawrenceville, where he enjoyed a substantial practice with his father. He served two years in the legislature from Gwinnett county. About 16 years ago he was appointed referee in bankruptcy by the late Federal Judge W. T. Newman, of the Atlanta district, the position he held at the time of his death.

Judge Hutchins took an active part in civic and political affairs. He was a member of the local Kiwanis Club and had held many important offices in that organization. His oratorical ability and eloquence made him a speaker of note on any occasion.

About 20 years ago Judge Hutchins was married to Mrs, Ethel Tye

TOWN MARSHAL FREED ON BOND FOR KILLING

MOUNT VERNON, Ga., Jan. 6.— (P)—Town Marshal J. L. Jackson, of

CARTERSVILLE, Ga., Jan. 6.—
Mrs. Laura Conyers Fite, 70, widow, of the late Judge A. W. Fite, died at her home here shortly after midnight Thursday. Funeral services will be conducted from the home Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. W. S. Robison and Rev. Nath Thompson officiating. Interment will be at Oakhill.
Mrs. Fite is survived by one daughbody. Investigation showed she had been assailed by at least two men, battered about the head with rocks and apparently killed with knife thrusts on the throat.

Boyle, a former doorman at a theater in New York, had been beaten about the head with rocks. An X-ray examination was made to see whether his skull was fractured.

The killing apparently occurred about midnight, police said, when this particular park section—a busy spot in the daytime—is deserted except for an occasional round by a mounted park guard.

Conducted from the home Saturasy conducted from the surfernoon at 2:30 with Rev. W. S. Robison and Rev. Nath Thompson officiating. Interment will be at Oakhill.

Mrs. Fite is survived by one daughter, Miss. Sara Fite, a teacher in the form in New York, had been beaten and the surfernoon and Rev. Nath Thompson officiating. Interment will be at Oakhill.

MACON Ga. Jan. 6.—P. Termeror Rescue of Horse

MACON, Ga., Jan. 6.—(P)—Few people would dare death to rescue an old horse that fell in a well, but Eddie Bowden and Edward O'Neal did and now the whole community is calling them beroes.

Britt O'Neal. a farmer. was hauling dirt to fill the well and his steed slipped on the brink, plunging 50 feet. The walls continued to cave but Eddie and Edward, both mere boys, went down and tied mere boys, went down and tied ropes to the imprisoned beast. Meanwhile, others tolled the plantation bell and neighbors far and near came running.

They started pulling, raised the horse half way out and the ropes broke. Eddie descended again and tied more ropes. The dirt kept fall-ing and it looked like the whole well might cave in any moment.

The crowd heaved again and lifted the horse to the surface without a scratch on its body.

For Hard Coughs or Colds That Worry You

Creomulsion is made to give supreme

Creomulsion is made to give supreme help for coughs or colds that worry you. It cambines seven helps in one—the best helps known to science. It is for quick relief, for safety.

But careful people, more and more, use it for every cough that starts. No one knows where a cough may lead. No one can tell which factor will do most. That depends on the type of cold.

Creomulsion costs a little more than lesser helps. But it means the utmost help. And it costs you nothing if it falls to bring the quick relief you seek. Your druggist guarantees it. Use it for safety's sake. (adv.)

WOULD YOU Encourage DESTRUCTION of YOUR PROPERTY?

Suppose tradesmen and merchants whom you favored with your patronage made a passageway of your private grounds destroying costly shrubbery, breaking up your drive, smashing windows, ruining your lawn and your flowers!

Would you permit it for a minute? And would you encourage this destruction of your property by continuing your patronage even though you might buy for a little less from such concerns?

You just bet you wouldn't! Not if you were in your right mind!

But-ARE WE NOT ENCOURAGING JUST SUCH DE-STRUCTION OF OUR OWN PROPERTY BY OTHERS when we take our business away from the Railroads, who build and maintain THEIR OWN right-of-ways, and because of an apparent small saving in transportation charges give it to carriers who are WRECK-ING OUR ROADS THAT WE BUILT WITH OUR OWN MONEY?

COLUMBUS, Ga., Jan. 6.—Mrs. B.
H. Hardaway Jr. was elected president of the Community Service to succeed Mrs. Theodore Golden Jr., whose resignation on account of illness was accepted with regret. Mrs. Hardaway, as chairman of charities during the first year of the league's existence and this year as vice president, has demonstrated her ability to lead the affairs of the organization along progressive lines. Mrs. Tom Huston, who has served the league well in many capacities, was elected vice president to succeed Mrs. Hardaway.

The month of January will be very full for the members of the league. On Saturday, January 7, they will present "The Little Princess," the first children's play. The cast will include a number of children under 12 years of age and the presentation will be in the nature of a children's party.

The latter part of January the Maka Doll theater, constructed and Mrs. J. F. Terry, will go to Warm Springs. The Doll actors will present on their miniature stage an original negro play written by Mrs. Battle and Mrs. Terry. On January 18 the children's ward of the city hospital, sponsored by the league, will be formally opened.

At the annual meeting of the Woman's Reading Club held during the past week, officers were elected and an all-star cast is being rehearsed for what the directors expect to be the Players' most finished performance. Manuice Squirrell, assisted by Frances McNulty, will direct the play.

Parents, do you know that the children in your home are absorbing the atmosphere of your home just as a sponge thrown in a tub absorbs the water in that tub? A teacher who has taught for more than 20 years in one school has this interesting and illuminating comment to make on this point. She says that the children born during the war years were apparently her war years were apparently to glorid the year in which she first taught the children born during the war years were apparently sorbed from the atmosphere of paralyzed emotionally and at the end of the year in which she first taught the children born during this period she was fretted and worried over her inability to elicit from those children any show of affection. At the close inability to elicit from those children any show of affection. At the close of school she discussed her disappointment with other teachers, remarking that she was afraid she had lost her cunning in the class room. To her surprise her friends and conferees acknowledged that they had evperienced the same frustrations and together they arrived at the conclusion that the pull that hung over these homes due to the daily horrors of the war, the determined effort at self-control made by the mothers and read the napers, not mature enough to control made by the mothers and grown people surrounding these chil-dren had induced this unemotional, unresponsive attitude of the pupils that had come under their observation. But she testifies in a few years the children became normal again and the old affectionate relation between herself and her pupils was restored. More pathetic, though not more enlightening, is the comment of this same teacher today about the second grade pupils of 1932. It so happens that she teaches in a school that is patronized largely by children of the working classes, mechanics, carpenters, small tradesmen, the classes in which unemployment is most prevalent, made up of people whose margins of savings have been used up, people who know actual poverty and want, or at least know the fear that poverty and want are near at hand. More pathetic, though not more familiar with relationship that exists absorbs

Unspeakably tragic it is and enormously enlightening! These children not only absorb the atmosphere of the times in which they live. A little girl of five, not old enough to read the papers, not mature enough to understand much of the intricacies of human relationships, remarked the other day to an older friend that her mother and father might get a divorce. She had heard her mother quarreling with her father and she sounded so mad that she thought she was going "to grab up her favorite child and walk out of the door, leaving her father to wash his face the best way he could." Now it so happens that this little one is a member of a family in which there has never been a divorce, nor have there been any divorces among the parents of her playmates—yet she has grasped the idea that when husbands and wives quarrel the nexten is desirable enough that the as has grasped the idea that when husbands and wives quarrel the next step is logically enough that the ag-gressor "grabs up the favorite child" and makes a hasty exit from the house.

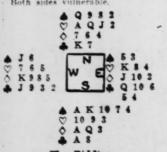

Into these homes this teacher goes and she is familiar with the environment out of which these children come, s the water in the tub?

Miss Arthur Weds Porter L. Morrow In New York

ORCHARD PARK, N. Y., Jan. 6 Miss Martha Jean Arthur, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Gilman Arthur, became the bride of Porter Langston Morrow, of Atlanta, Ga., at a quiet ceremony solemnized last Monday at St. Mark's Episcopal church at 4 o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. Henry De Wolf De Mauriac performed the impressive service.

Calla lilies, freezia and foliage plants adorned the church, forming an effective background for the wed-ding party. Curtice Aldredge rend-ered a program of nuptial music. Miss Antonnette Briggs was the maid of honor and she wore a brown lace gown with trimmings of rust velvet. She wore a small hat of brown silk with a brief veil and carried a bouquet of Talismen roses. The ushers were William H. Arthur and Robert Briggs Jr.

The bride entered with her father. William Gilman Arthur, who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in her suit of rich green velvet, with a bodice of white pebble crepe. Her hat was of green velour and her bouquet was of white roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. McGovern Makes Address On International Relations to Club

World peace possible only through a general understanding of the problems of the various nations by each nation, and stressing the importance of individual interest, knowledge and responsibility in international affairs, using citizenship rights to bring about results, was the keynote of the address made by Mrs. J. T. McGovern, chairman of international relations of the fifth district of Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs, to the Kirkwood Civic League held last Tuesday.

Citing problems, many of them centuries old, confronting some of the nations, noting racial differences, and offering helpful suggestions in the study of international affairs, Mrs. McGovern brought the most illuminating message on this subject ever heard by the league.

The program was sponsored by the department of international relations of the league, of which Mrs. W. O. Mitchell is chairman. In keeping with the thought of the afternoon a musical program was offered by Miss Zulu Foster, member of the music

REPEAL RESOLUTION

Democrats Are Dissatisfied With Measure Drawn in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 .- (AP)-The ossibility of democratic opposition to the senate repeal resolution, in the form in which it now is framed, to night clouded the hopes of its sponsors for early approval.

There were strong indications that wet and dry ranks both would be split by the phraseology of the measure, but plans for its speedy consideration were under way.

A senate judiciary subcommitted prepared to listen tomorrow to six hours of arguments over the constitutionality of the 3.2 per cent beer bill passed by the house before Christmas.

Three hours of the hearing have been alloted to each side, and the friends of prohibition were mustering their strongest legal evidence to prove that beer of that alcoholic content would be a violation of the eighteenth Whether the democrats would make a party issue of the repeal resolution had not been determined today. It a party issue of the repeal resolution had not been determined today. It was discussed last night at the conference between President-elect Roosevelt and congressional leaders, but no final agreement was reached.

One prominent democratic opponent of prohibition said definitely that he would vote against the repeal resolution in its present form. Other critics of the dry laws, however, including Senators Blaine, republican, Wisconsin, and Bingham, republican, Connecticut, have said they will vote for the measure rather than kill repeal.

A similar difference of opinion was evident among the friends of prohibition. Senator Fess, Ohio republican, indicated that he would vote for the resolution, saying it "does not differ in the main from the republican position which I will support."

Senator Robinson, republican, Indiana, has announced he will oppose the repeal proposal in any form, while diana, has announced he will oppose the repeal proposal in any form, while Senators Sheppard, democrat, Texas, and Borah, republican, Idaho, have withheld final judgment.

The annual request program of the Philadelphia orchestra, conducted by Leopold Stokowski, will be broadcast during the third Philco concert tonight from 7:15 to 9 p. m. over WGST and the Columbia network. Selections chosen this year by a popular ballot of the Philadelphia music public are the Cesar Franck Symphony in D minor and Brahms Symphony in D minor and Brahms Symphony No. 1 in C minor. Stokowski will personally introduce the numbers before their performance. During the intermission, Pitts Sanborn, music critic of the New York World-Telegram, will continue his demonstrations of the different orchestral instruments and presentations of the Philadelphia orchestra soloists. Someone to Love INSTALLMENT 1.

Of all the small town girls who want to go to New York and make good, June Varick was not one of them. Yet she was fated to get what she did not wish in the strangest possible way. Her red-gold hair caught a thousand dancing lights as she drove barcheaded, up the suny slope of Pilot Knob, in the Ozarks. But she was not thinking of New York.

Why, she was asking herself, couldn't she love Hickory Ferguson's He was a dear, and she had half promised to marry him when her turned for his senior year at the School of Mines. But she couldn't she love Hickory Ferguson's party to do with the wast of the first time, and her emprayed to her.

"Yes, I said."

"It's nearly always full. My faths your house?" she asked again, thinking June had not under the state university.

She did not know, of course, that she was driving straight into dissister. It came in the form of a huge car, which shattered the serenity of her musing without warning. Like a monster, it flashed over the creat of the Knob, and swooped down upon June's little blue coupe with a vindictive crash. Then, ungracefully, it performed a contortion at the foot of one of the oak tres that flanked the highway on either side, and sprawdel in twisted defeat.

For a few moments there was almost complete stillness. A warm sun poured over the earty September foliage, spattering the earth with globules of gold. A squirrel peered down upon the scene with bright, inquisitive eyes. And birds with red weeks the right once. Between the highway on either side, and sprawdel in twisted defeat.

Daily Stock Summary.

Dow-Jones Averages. BY THE UNITED PRESS.

Tone of the Markets.

What the Market Did.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 .- (AP)-Railroad stocks and bonds came forward as new leaders for a rise in the security markets today and the short-ened trading week closed with rather substantial price appreciation to its morrow out of respect to Calvin Coolidge; hence today's transactions on the stock exchange were doubtless in-

Net gains generally ranged from fractions to something less than 2 points, with carrier equities showing to best advantage. Wheat's strength reflected speculative purchases by traders who had an ear for price-fixing talk in Washington, and doubtless the rise in this staple reacted favorably on the share market.

Just why railroad searching assume

Just why railroad securities assumed prominence was not immediately apparent. The national transportaion committee is believed to have virtonic committee is believed to have vir-tually completed its fact-finding task, and compilation of the final report is expected to go forward. It will un-doubtedly reflect in due measure the views of Mr. Coolidge.

views of Mr. Coolidge.

Several of the active rail shares, including New York Central, Pennsylvania. Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific and Lackawanna, were up at least a point. A number of railroad bonds rallied much more extensively.

Industrial stocks were somewhat

Industrial stocks were somewhat less aggressive and encountered a little profit-taking toward the close, but net gains of half to more than a point appeared for Corn Products. American Tobacco "B", Kennecott, Case, Harvester, U. S. Steel, Westinghouse, Allied Chemical and American Can. In the same range fell American Telephone, Consolidated Gas of New York, North American and Western Union. Sales totaled 1.141.810 shares.

Surveys of the business landscape in the weekly mercantile reviews disclosed a few patches of sunshine, notably a post-holiday pickup. Dun's gathered the impression that moderate progress might be witnessed this quarter while Bradstreet's said "business seems to be relieved that 1920, ness seems to be relieved that 1920.

hess seems to be relieved that 1932 has become history." and noted a gen-eral feeling that last year has seen "the worst phase of the battle against economic adversity."

Foreign Markets

LONDON—Prices on the stock exchange maintained a good undertone after early irregularity. Renewed support wiped out losses especially in gold mining shares, gilt-edged securities and industrials. The closury was steady, with Argentine rails showling advances of about one point.

PARIS—Trading on the hourse was largely ominated by the domestic financial situation and was again irregular, with initial wastness being shown in rentes. Later deal names were followed by a better tendency and he closing was firm.

BERLIN-Prices on the boerse were weak aroughout the session and closed lower.

CHICAGO COTTON RANGE.

LIVINGSTON & CO.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—With nothing particularly buillish in the day to day news developments and with professional leadership almost entirely absent, the various markets, particularly that for stocks, continue to render an impressive account of themselves. The steady demand for second-grade rail bonds, which we had commented on of late, finally found full reflection today in a sudden buying movem t in rail shares which carried the Dow-Jones average above its December high. Uti. ity average also broke through, while the industrial average made some further slight progress into new high ground. We feel that early improvement is distinctly possible and advocate conservative extension of lines.

Out of respect for Mr. Coolidge the exchange will be closed tomorrow and we may, therefore, look forward to Monday when during a full session, the market may have time to break through to higher levels. We consider today's performance as a very good basis. Stock Letters.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—A further advance resulted in a definite breaking of December 15 resistance level today. Although the rise has been continued sufficiently to justify expectation of a trading reaction carly next week the longer term trud appears definitely established in an inpward direction with excellent prospects of this broader movement continuing well into the spring. Monday's session appears likely to bring higher prices at the misening and later profit-taking. Any appreciable reaction, however, in our opinion, should be used to further increase trading and longer pull commitments. Cotton Letters.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The market showed irregular strength today with the rails, which failed earlier to do as well as the industrials, assuming the lead today. Probably the fact that the exchange will be closed tomorrow resulted in a good deal of evening up.

Stocks of an investment character again were the ones which were in steadiest demand and it seems worth while for the present to give special attention to dividend paying issues.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—It was gratifying to see some more life put into rails today. While the list, as a whole, did not make much headway, we must remember that rails were behind and should be allowed a little time for catching up. Yet certain stocks moved into new high territory like deliveries seemed to reflect liquidation through commission houses.

July advanced to 6.50 and prices generally showed net gains of 7 to 11 points with buying encouraged by the steadiness of the grain and stock markets.

By JOHN P. BOUGHAN. NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—With Liverpool cables 2 to 5 penny points better than dige and large spot sales attracting favorable attention the local cotton market opened today unchanged to 8 points higher. Local spot men predict that the improvement will likely continue for some time, according to present indications, as January spot shorts apparently have not acquired all the cotton they need, and if business should pick up, even to a slight extent, the present low price of cotton would prove attractive to mills. We continue to favor buying cotton for the long pull. CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(A)—In brisk advance, wheat gained 1 7-8 cents a bushel today, owing chiefly to speculative purchases intended to anticipate possible price-fixing by congress. An amendment to the domestic agricultural allotment bill before the lower house at Washington gave decided impetus to demand for May delivery of wheat. The amendment, if enacted and not vetoed, would grant farmers an arbitrary price of 75 cents a ers an arbitrary price of 45 cents a bushel for wheat remaining in their hands at the end of the current crop season, July 1 next.

Wheat closed strong, 1 3-8 to 1 7-8 above yesterday's finish, corn 5-8 to 3-4 up, oats 3-8 to 1-2 advanced, and provisions showing 5 to 7 cents gain.

Corn and oats followed wheat, but were inclined to lag. Shipping demand here for corn was the largest in some time.

Provisions were responsive to hog market upturns.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER.
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—The latent strength of the cash wheat situation wouch we have emphasized repeatedly for the jast month manifested itself today in a substantial advance in the futures market especially May wheat was in evidence today. An amendment to the proposed downward to exert any depressing influence here, the opening being higher, and after absorbing profit-taking against offers the adsmer was orderly and persistent throughout the reat of season. NEW YORK, Jan. 6 + (P)—The bond market put another foot forward today in the most active trading in the past ten days. Sales totaled $13,038,000, par value, and the Associated Pressvalue, and the Associated Standard Statistics average for 60 do-Standard Statistics average for 60 domestic corporate loans advanced seven-tenths of a point. While highest grade investment issues generally held around their best levels for the past year, semi-speculative liens, led by the rails, took on a new lease of life in the latter part of the session and sprang forward for gains of 1 to 6 or more points. Most United States government securities rallied to around their 1932 peaks after announcement that the federal reserve system would continue its open market policy. The system's holdings of federal obligations now approximate $1,851.000,000. The principal rail gainers included bonds of Santa Fe, Alleghany Corp., Baltimore & Ohio, Atlantic Coast Line, Boston & Maine, Canadian Pacific, Burlington, St. Paul, Rock Ligher Delaware & Hudson. CURB LIST STAGES RALLY NEAR CLOSE

By CLAUDE A. JAGGER. NEW YORK, Jan. 6.-(A)-The curb market today found it difficult to pursue an even course in any dito pursue an even course in any direction until the last hour, when price forged ahead rather spiritedly.

Appearance of the late bidding doubtless reflected short covering in anticipation of extended week-end suspension because of the Coolidge funeral. The turnover approximated 190,000 shares compared with 150,000 vesterday.

190,000 shares compared with 190,000 yesterday.

Utilities accounted for many of the price gains and a considerable share of the trading. Gains running to more than three points were scored by American Gas & Electric, Electric, Bond & Share 6 per cent preferred, Columbia Gas & Electric preferred and Cleyeland Electric Illuminating. Consolidated Gas of Baltimore issues receded on light selling.

Whitney Announces Rule Forcing Listed Stocks To Show Condition.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 .- (A)-The New York Stock Exchange took action today designed to bring a free and full play of the spotlight of publicity on corporate earnings statements and the balance sheet, income statements and surplus statements for the most recent fiscal year."

This ruling which demands that an audit of the books be made by some agency outside the company, itself, was expected by the exchange to insure full accuracy for the earning statements, and to lead directly to more complete, as well as reliable publicity about the earnings and balance sheet of the company.

A few exceptions to the new rule ance sheet of the company.

A few exceptions to the new rule will be permitted, said Whitney, but only a few. The railroads, he said, might reasonably object to going to the expense of an independent audit because they already issue voluminous statements on their earnings in compliance with interstate commerce because they already issue voluminous statements on their earnings in com-pliance with interstate commerce commission regulations.

One particularly humorous piece in which she played the leading part was "Scary Lucy," a story of the war. In it "Sarge Plunkett" tells how his wife, then living near Jonesboro, went one afternoon to carry corn to the mill near by to be ground into meal. Upon her return she found that a battle was in progress all around her home, and the house itself was directly between the northern and the southern armies.
